GREATER MANCHESTER POLICE, FIRE & CRIME PANEL

Date: 21 March 2023

Subject: The new GMP Neighbourhood Policing Model

Report of: Terry Woods, Deputy Chief Constable, Greater Manchester Police

Purpose of Report

To provide the Police and Crime Panel with an overview of the new GMP Neighbourhood Policing Model that was launched on the 20 March 2023.

Recommendations:

The Panel is requested to:

1. Note the background findings from the Neighbourhood Policing Review (NPR) and consultation.
2. Note the elements of the new Neighbourhood Policing Model.

Contact Officers

Vicky Sugars – Police, Crime and Fire Team

vicky.sugars@greatermanchester-ca.gov.uk

Equalities Impact, Carbon, and Sustainability Assessment:

An equality assessment (EIA: Equality Impact Assessment) has been carried out on the Officers who are in scope of the project and likely to be impacted by the shift pattern change.

Risk Management

The project (Neighbourhood Policing Review and implementation of the approved NPR Model) risk management approach follows Prince2 methodology and in line with Management of Successful Programmes (MSP) risk management for any escalated risks to programme board.

Legal Considerations

The project undertook GMP's HR support and guidance to lead on the consultation on the introduction of the new Neighbourhood Policing Review Model and the three weeks shift pattern proposal. Consultation began on 17th August 2022. At the start of the consultation briefings sessions were held with PCSOs, and staff and officers received an individual email outlining in detail what the proposals meant for them. The consultation with the officers and the Federation concluded on 13th October 2022, however, the consultation with the PCSOs and their representatives is still ongoing.

The proposals generated 135 submissions in total from staff, officers, the Police Federation and Trade Unions representatives, in relation to several areas.

Financial Consequences – Revenue

The resourcing of the neighbourhood model has been assisted via the police uplift programme along with resources from the police precept from 2021/22 and 2021/23.

The Business Case has undergone due diligence and GMP's approval process including POAP Portfolio endorsement in addition to GMP's finance governance approval process (Finance Governance Board and Capital Review Group).

Future Revenue implications are showing a saving to the GMP's budget of £45k per year, this is due to changes in the shift pattern for the NBO's resulting in less unsocial hours payments. The request for 3 additional sergeants will be covered by the overall existing police officer budgets (therefore this is shown as an Opportunity Cost).

Financial Consequences – Capital

The resourcing of the neighbourhood model has been assisted with resources from the police precept from 2021/22 and 2021/23.

As mentioned in the previous section the final Business Case underwent GMP's approval and finance governance process.

There are no capital financial consequences as a result of the NPR project.

1. Background on the neighbourhood policing review

Neighbourhood policing is the primary way for policing to connect with communities and partners. It allows GMP to listen to the public, build confidence in policing and to act with partners to keep communities safe.

It is widely accepted that, in recent years neighbourhood policing in Greater Manchester has been eroded and has not served the public well. Neighbourhood policing teams were often abstracted to perform other duties and respond to incidents – drawing them away from their communities. GMP were also missing significant opportunities to work in an integrated way with partners and there were significant gaps in shift patterns. These points were also recognised in the PEEL Inspection reports by HMICFRS.

A review of Neighbourhood Policing was commissioned by the Chief Constable in 2022 and to support the review a vast amount of consultation and engagement has taken place with the public, partners, and staff.

Based on the feedback from over 8,000 members of the public as well as partners and staff, the neighbourhood policing review has sought to: -

- Professionalise neighbourhood policing and problem solving.
- Introduce a corporate neighbourhood policing approach, with minimum standards. This will ensure a level of consistency but with a degree of flexibility, to build on existing partnership arrangements, on a district-by-district basis.
- Minimise abstractions to keep neighbourhood policing team resources dedicated to the task of neighbourhood policing.
- Demonstrate effective and visible community policing.
- Improve how GMP and partners align and deploys its resources to meet need and demand (e.g., shift patterns, staffing ratios and geographical alignment.)
- Improve how GMP problem solves with partners and gets to the root causes of what drives crime and ASB in communities and
- Improve how GMP engages and communicates with communities (e.g., community messaging) and improves confidence.

The public consultation showed that people want to see visible and accessible neighbourhood policing teams that were both focussed on tackling crime and ASB as well as engaging with communities and partners. The public consultation showed that the top issues people want neighbourhood policing to focus on were the same across every district: - drug dealing (and associated ASB), burglary, speeding and other road traffic offences.

2. The new model of neighbourhood policing

The enclosed booklet (Appendix A) provides the background on the findings of the review, the public consultation, and the make-up of the new structure.

In summary: -

- We will have a total workforce of 1,148 officers and staff working on ring-fenced neighbourhoods working a new shift pattern to improve cover and managed with strict abstraction protocols.
- Every ward will have a PCSO and every neighbourhood policing area will have an Inspector, Sergeant and increased numbers of Police Constables to enable teams to respond to the issues identified in the consultation – such as drug dealing and ASB.
- A new neighbourhood messaging system ‘Be in the Loop’ will be launched – enabling residents to sign up to real live updates and the ‘local area’ part of the GMP website has been updated.
- Additional specialist prevention and crime teams will be in place in every district to provide dedicated technical and specialist support. Capabilities have also been boosted through new Neighbourhood Prevention Hubs which will enable GMP to problem solve with partners to get to the root causes of what is driving crime and ASB in communities.
- There has been significant training and investment into professionalising neighbourhood policing teams which will improve how the teams’ work including interaction with partners and communities.

The new Neighbourhood Policing Model was launched on the 20 March 2023.

WELCOME FROM THE CHIEF CONSTABLE

Neighbourhood Policing is the bedrock of British policing: the trusted connection between communities and the people who have the power, ability, and resources to keep them safe in the place they call home.

For many years GMP has not effectively maintained this vital link. Whilst we had local policing in place, in practice the chosen model did not work. Neighbourhood officers spent little time in their neighbourhoods as they were often taken away to respond to incidents or carry out investigations and the shift pattern they worked left large gaps – particularly at weekends.

PCSOs have done an admirable job of providing visibility but they do not have the warranted powers needed to tackle the crime and incidents that affect people – such as burglary – and which we were increasingly failing to address.

Our focus appeared to be to try to discourage people from seeking our help or engage with us; to seek to persuade that only a sub-standard service was possible; whilst sending the message to criminals that they could go about their business unfettered.

That was the old GMP.

In September 2021, as your new Chief Constable, I set out our plan for building a better Greater Manchester Police and made a series of public promises. I committed to reverse this model and create a way forward for effectively reducing crime, harm and anti-social behaviour through neighbourhood policing.

We scrapped the so-called “citizens contract” and instead asked people what they wanted from neighbourhood policing through a major public consultation exercise in which nearly 8000 people took part. Their answers were clear:

- Be visible and accessible in our area and stay there
...don't move around, we want to get to know you.
- Listen to us when we tell you what the problems are
...we know, we live here.
- Deal with the crime and anti-social behaviours that are our priorities
...target the criminals to prevent and reduce crime and harm.
- Communicate better with us
...tell us what you have done.

Our new Neighbourhood Policing Model delivers exactly these facets, with an increase in the number of police officers. Whilst the remodelling of resources will take some months to achieve through recruitment, we will have a committed neighbourhood resource of 1,148 officers and staff and a re-mapped resource model and shift pattern to maintain availability.

But it's not just about putting more bobbies on the beat. We're going beyond a single name for every ward.

Each-and-every neighbourhood will have a ring-fenced, dedicated team of Sergeants, Police Constables and PCSOs led by a Neighbourhood Inspector in every District.

Capability will be further bolstered in every district by a new Neighbourhood Prevention Hub designed to help resolve long-term problems that drive up demand for resources. Each district will also have a dedicated Neighbourhood Crime Team which will specifically focus on working on community intelligence to target and arrest those criminals carrying out crimes like burglary and car crime. Combined, the model delivers fully resourced local teams supported by specialists who can help drive down crime and antisocial behaviour in our communities.

There's also more room in the model for proper engagement and communications, and while people can expect to see the resumption of planned PACT meetings across the force, we have introduced new digital tools to help people keep up to date with local policing. Our website "local area" has been significantly updated so information on what has been happening, local contacts and news can all be found quickly and in one place.

We have also introduced a new messaging system - "Bee in the Loop" - which people can sign up to receive real-time updates on what's going on in the area, and the ability to provide feedback and get involved in priority setting activities.

We'll also have the space, time and capacity to get back to doing more with our partner agencies to really get to the root causes of problems to make our communities even nicer places to live, work and study in the long-term.

Working together, and with our enduring promise to take more criminals off our streets, I know that neighbourhood policing will once again become the lynchpin between our officers and the people we serve.

ABOUT GREATER MANCHESTER POLICE

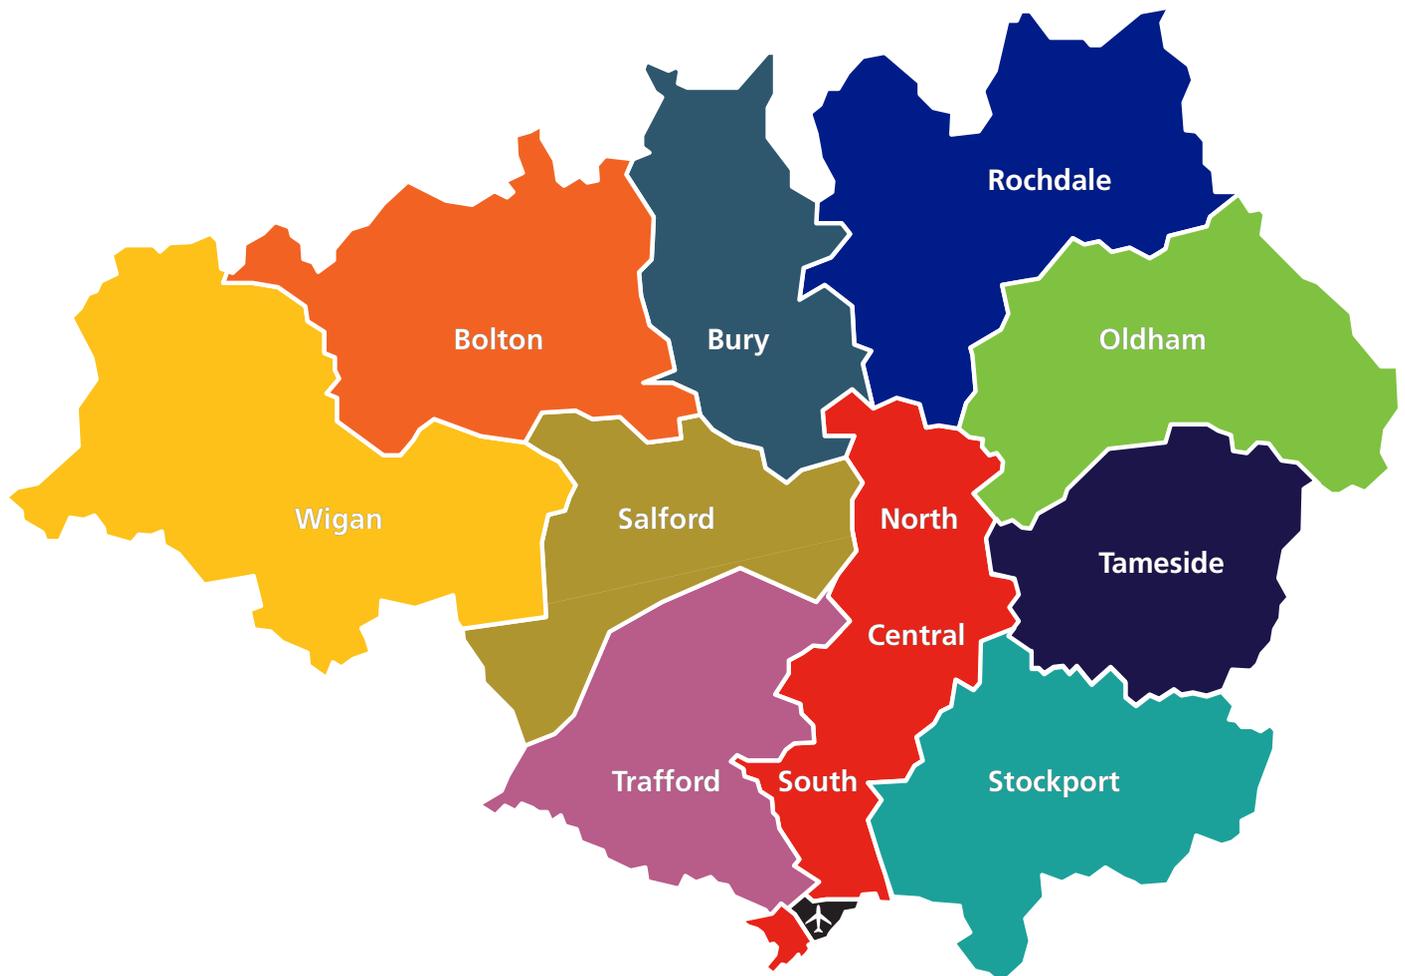

Greater Manchester Police was formed in 1974 to serve the newly created county of Greater Manchester.

The force was created following an amalgamation of the Manchester & Salford Police and parts of the Lancashire, Cheshire and West Yorkshire police forces. The Manchester Airport Police merged with GMP two years later and the force has maintained responsibility for policing the busiest airport outside of London ever since.

GMP is one of the largest police forces in the UK and is split over ten policing districts. The force covers almost 500 square miles and is responsible for keeping approximately 2.8 million people safe.

Policing in Greater Manchester is a unique undertaking with the region firmly positioned as a major economic, political, cultural and sporting centre. Naturally, this results in a large number of major events occurring each year which require a policing response.

The region is also incredibly diverse with pockets of communities from all over the world setting up home here. The borough of Manchester alone is believed to have over 200 spoken languages.

It is expected that in the coming years we'll experience a significant and sustained increase in population meaning more citizens potentially needing support.

Despite its position as a major economic power in the UK, Greater Manchester is also home to some of the most deprived areas nationally; with parts of Oldham, Rochdale, Salford and Manchester consistently included in the list of 20 most deprived which presents its own challenges. The region also has a large number of children's homes with most children housed there from outside the area.

Like the rest of the country, Greater Manchester has experienced a challenging period as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, which has put a strain on public services. December 2020 saw GMP placed into the 'Engage' stage of the HMICFRS monitoring process following concerns raised around the service provided to victims by the force.

A new Chief Constable was appointed and started in post in May 2021 before immediately beginning work to develop a new Plan on a Page which places Neighbourhood Policing at its heart. In October 2022 the HMICFRS took GMP out of its 'Engage' process, making it the fastest improving force in the country.

NEIGHBOURHOOD POLICING REVIEW

A dedicated review project has spent a year undertaking a vigorous assessment of the current GMP neighbourhood policing provision – concluding that the structure and operating model was no longer viable.

Key findings:

- Neighbourhood Beat Officers were routinely taken away to cover response functions.
- High levels of abstractions meant that PCSOs were often the most visible presence in communities but are limited in what they can deploy to because they lack statutory warranted powers to attend incidents and undertake policing operations.
- Shift patterns negatively affected effective partnership working and left no cover on areas for two to three days at a time - often over weekends.
- The blend of police officers and PCSOs was not in the correct proportion to meet public and partner needs and to effectively solve neighbourhood problems and the focus was on response not prevention.
- Resources were distributed to areas simply according to geographical boundaries and don't take into consideration proportionate risk, threat or harm in the community.
- There was a lack of investigative support which meant neighbourhood officers were managing more complex and in-depth investigations.
- Line management had eroded, and direction was confused.

PUBLIC CONSULTATION

Public consultation conducted during early 2022, found that the public recognised that the model was not delivering what people wanted of their neighbourhood policing team.

The existing neighbourhood policing model did not deliver the visibility and accessibility needed to retain trust and confidence; was not doing enough to solve the problems and crimes experienced; and did not do enough to communicate effectively with the community.

- People wanted our model to have teams that are:
 - visible in the communities (77%)
 - easily contactable (74%)
 - working collaboratively with other organisations (73%)
 - protecting the most vulnerable through early intervention and problem solving (70%)
 - focused on tackling crime and anti-social behaviour (95%)
 - engaging and communicating with communities (80%)
- There was strong public demand for ring-fencing, tenure and lack of abstraction for neighbourhood policing.
- There was a high level of dissatisfaction with visibility and accessibility of neighbourhood policing. Only 5% of respondents said they were satisfied with the level of visible policing where they live.
- Just 11% of respondents agreed that neighbourhood policing teams work closely with communities
- Over half said the police do a poor or very poor job in their local area, with a further 29% saying performance is just fair.
- The top issues people want neighbourhood policing to focus on were the same across every district and were the same in the survey and the public meetings:
 - drug dealing (and associated ASB)
 - burglary
 - speeding and other road traffic offences.
- Comments suggest that people do not believe neighbourhood policing focusses enough on community priorities, that it targets the wrong issues and does not listen to public needs.

THE NEW GMP NEIGHBOURHOOD POLICING MODEL

The new GMP model will deliver a focus on the basics of neighbourhood policing.

35 neighbourhood areas, serviced by 89 dedicated teams, across a 3-week shift pattern, providing coverage 7 days a week across the neighbourhood area will deliver the following model.

"In Greater Manchester Police, neighbourhood policing provides communities with dedicated named teams of local police officers, together with police community support officers.

These officers are visible and can be contacted by local communities. They listen to issues that concern communities and work with the public, community groups, businesses and other organisations like the NHS and the local council to reduce crime, protect vulnerable people and improve community safety.

They take a problem-solving approach to focus on the root causes of the problems that matter most to communities, and they feedback on action that has been taken".

Once the model is fully staffed, we will see 1,148 officers and staff working in neighbourhood policing.

NEIGHBOURHOOD TEAM COMPOSITION

FEATURES OF THE NEIGHBOURHOOD POLICING MODEL

- Strong leadership and accountability for a clearly defined geographical area – 1 Inspector covering 3 teams. Dedicated named teams of local police officers working together with police community support officers, recognising that an effective model requires a heavier weighting of police officers – giving teams the powers to deal with the issues the communities are identifying.
- Aligned to partner boundaries / service delivery footprints to support partnership problem solving and place-based working.
- Resourcing formula applied to determine resourcing levels based on demand / need: our neighbourhood teams need more people with policing powers.
- Revised shift patterns to supply better coverage and increased visibility. A new three-week shift pattern already in use by other forces provides full seven-day cover in each NH footprint ensuring weekends – which are often uncovered – have the same focus for NHP.
- Teams are visible and can be contacted by local communities. They listen to issues that concern communities and work with public and partners. Provide feedback on action that has been taken.
- Engagement plans include new information on the website for every team – photos, contacts, dates of meetings, feedback on activity and priorities. A new community alerts system called Bee in the Loop where people can sign up to receive dynamic information from their neighbourhood team and use it to communicate two-ways.

Your Neighbourhood Policing Team is a group of local police officers and staff dedicated to serving your community. The team is made up of police officers and a dedicated Police Community Support Officer (PCSO). These are supported by additional officers and staff from the wider area.

We work closely with local authorities, community leaders and residents to decide our policing priorities for your area. This helps us to find useful, long-term solutions to local problems, while maintaining our wider focus on the basics: to fight, prevent and reduce crime, whilst keeping people safe and caring for victims.

Crimes and priorities

Our priorities

Priority:	Action taken:
Anti-Social Behaviour Issued 08 March 2023	Your local neighbourhood team are working hard to ensure local issues are made a priority. More detailed information will be updated shortly.

FEATURES OF THE NEIGHBOURHOOD POLICING MODEL

- Neighbourhood teams will also benefit from the restoration of support functions which include a dedicated Neighbourhood Prevention Hub consisting of an inspector and specialist neighbourhood officers working with partners in every district.
- The Hubs have already been set up and will help drive prevention and problem solving with communities and partners by supporting neighbourhood teams to plan their interventions and will lead on force wide reduction of repeat demand which reduces pressure on neighbourhood policing to focus on identified problems. Neighbourhood Prevention Hubs are further supported by a Prevention Hub working at HQ with partners to support local initiatives and develop Greater Manchester wide prevention plans.
- A new Neighbourhood Crime Team will be created in every district to lead the delivery of force operations targeting neighbourhood crimes such as burglary, car crime and theft. This specialist capability will provide neighbourhood policing teams with the resources needed to effectively connect intelligence to target offenders in the district and conduct high profile action to help the neighbourhood policing teams drive down these crimes and forms a key part of the delivery strategy for neighbourhood crime.
- There will be closer management of abstractions and, while it cannot always be guaranteed, the policy of non-abstraction will be re-emphasised and more closely monitored as part of a new neighbourhood policing performance management regime.
- The need for neighbourhood beat officers to perform response duties will also be reduced through investments being made in other parts of the force which are driving down demand: a new grading policy, investment in response policing and the investment into desk-based investigators will all come together to reduce the potential for neighbourhood policing abstraction.
- Improved training: Accredited Neighbourhood Management Training began in October 2022, to skill up officers and professionalise neighbourhood policing. To date, 239 officers have been trained up and are putting their skills into practice.

PCSOs

We acknowledge the tremendous hard work they have undertaken during some of GMP's most difficult days to maintain visibility in communities whilst neighbourhood police officers were taken away to deal with and response to other issues.

We believe that PCSOs will continue to form a valued and essential part of our Neighbourhood Teams, particularly focussing on community visibility and engagement.

However, to be able to deal more effectively with the issues that communities want us to prioritise, our neighbourhood teams need more people with policing powers. As a result:

- PCSOs will reduce – through natural attrition - by 333 from 518 currently filled posts to 215.
- Every ward will have one named PCSO.
- Savings made by reducing PCSO numbers will be invested in a further 264 warranted neighbourhood policing police officers.
- No jobs will be lost, and we will fully support any PCSO who wants to transfer into becoming a police officer or taking up another role in the force.
