Mental health and safeguarding app startup Tootoot to enter workplace with GMCA investment

The business said it's looking to move its offering into the workplace by building an employee and mental health tool for use in large enterprises, which would enable employers to understand the mental wellbeing of its staff.

FOOTBALL4FOOTBALL NETS £150K INVESTMENT

© 6 Nov 2019  North West  Deals

Manchester-based Football4Football, which supports aspiring players at grassroots level, has secured a £150,000 matched funding investment from GC Angels.

The interactive platform advises footballers on what to eat, how to improve and what to do in case of injury.

With content from World Cup captains to non-league semi-professionals and brand ambassadors across the world, it is designed to help players looking to gain an advantage at any level.

The £150,000 investment and launching of a new website represents the culmination of years of content gathering.

Julian Dove, creator and owner of Football4Football, said: "This is an exciting time for football development in the UK. Using the internet to its fullest potential, can help educate young players, and their support base to enhance physical activity as well as emotional well-being in football.

"Like the top players, coaches and experts who feature, we want elite resource to be fully inclusive and believe that football4football can drive this process with its engaging functionality, fantastic content and accessible instruction."

Nathan Heathcote-Core, associate director at GC Angels, added: "Football4Football is one of the most exciting and innovative companies to work with in the sector. The work they've done with clubs such as Real Madrid, Ajax, and Paris Saint-Germain across the Premier League and Europe, really makes them stand out, and we're glad to be able to play a part in their journey."

HOW FEMALE ENTREPRENEURS CAN OVERCOME BARRIERS TO FUNDRAISING

Jessica Jackson, investment director at GC Angels, explains why investing in 'wonder women' is key to boosting the economy.

It is estimated that if there were as many female entrepreneurs as there are male entrepreneurs, global GDP could rise by three to six per cent, adding up to $8 trillion to the economy.

Furthermore, companies with greater gender diversity are 15 to 25 per cent more profitable and are more likely to outperform above their respective national industry medians in financial returns.

A new paper from the British Business Bank has revealed that, out of the £3.6 billion of venture capital invested in 2017, 80 per cent went to all-male founded businesses. This was backed up by the Alison Rose Review of Female Entrepreneurship, which detailed that women are 50 per cent less likely to secure funding compared to male founders, receiving just one per cent of VC capital.

These figures are shocking and evidence of the detrimental impact unconscious gender bias is having on the economy. But while we know a systematic change is needed, we also recognize that it takes time to cut through the noise and identify real, tangible solutions to help women-led businesses fulfill their potential.

Jeremy Topham, OBE is one person championing change, with the launch of the Northern Women Angel Investment Forum to address the impact from the investor-side of the table. Speaking at our recent Smashing Barriers: Manchester's Wonder Women event, Jeremy explained how aware the lack of women entrepreneurs accessing angel investment is and, out of the 15,000 angels she works with, just 15 per cent are women.

- Most active early stage investor by number
- Unique space in market – deal size
- Complementary to other Funds
- Lower investment value - higher leverage
- High follow-on rate
- Portfolio quality better than expected
GM Demand through GC Angels

- Consistent high level of demand
- 30% female and mixed gender founders in WIP
- £16m current WIP from 30 GM SMEs (per 4 months)
- £2m GM Pilot capital fully invested – LGF run out
- In the ‘Gap’ - Average deal size £350k
  - Cannot fully operate in this risk space
The Way Forward - an opportunity:

- Build on this success and new impetus in a GM market gap
- Target tech start ups earlier and produce more growth stock
- Kick start real diversity in pipeline of GM high growth SMEs
- Crowd in more later stage follow on funds (NPIF, BBB, EIS, Private)

Way Forward

- Continue market building – facilitation and hubs pipeline development
- Secure patient “unlocking public capital” for earlier stages prior to follow on
- Need @£2m per year will unlock 4x leverage plus follow on growth rounds
- Develop proposition for GM EIS Fund linked to Innovation sites and BBB Capital
